

The Resort at PAWS UP

There's camping – and then there's Glamping Paws Up-style. Part western-style vacation, part luxury escape, looks can be deceiving at this one-of-a-kind canvas community. This program is the ultimate coupled with spectacular fly fishing that Montana has to offer, a state of the art Clay shooting course and the Outdoors. Executives and clients will find spacious, exquisitely appointed tents placing them at one with the Montana wilderness. Inside, these unique abodes are less tent and more reminiscent of a room at a luxury resort. They feature The Last Best Bed®, fine linens, art on the walls and, yes, electricity. Just a few short steps away, you'll find your very own private master bathroom in Paws Up bathhouse –featuring heated floors, Montana-sized showers and vanities allowing clients the opportunity to freshen up before or after their day of adventure in pure Paws Up luxury. For meals, clients have private access to The Dining Pavilion at Tent City, where a Sport Events camping butler will prepare a five-star meal while your clients take in the breathtaking view of Lookout Rock. After a full day of fly fishing in the Rockies streams, amble down to The Spa Tent at Tent City, where a therapist will melt muscle fatigue against a backdrop of unspoiled Montana wilderness. Roughing it has never been so refined.

Want to explore the outdoors and sleep under the open skies but covet creature comforts? Welcome to the world of "glamping": for those who only want to sleep under 'five stars'.
